

For Unto Us a Child Is Born

Best Wishes to You for a Happy Holiday Season

One of our sons, Gary, 21, came home this year. In fact, we went to Europe and got him. His L.D.S. Mission in Belgium ended in June and we (Cy, Mary, Gary, Jamie, and Al) spent one month touring Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy and a little bit of France. We rented a V-W Camper and slept, ate and traveled in it. We had a marvelous time. We found Europeans most hospitable, and the countries we visited to be interesting, exciting, and beautiful. Having a son along who spoke fluent French helped tremendously.

We came home to see Ed, 24, marry Sue Menzel in August. He's out of the nest. They live in Ithaca where Ed is still a student at Cornell. His wife, a University of Illinois graduate, is working there.

Gary is back at the Univ. of Illinois. He's changed his major from Chemistry to Pre-Med. He's still in NROTC and is also working part-time in the Biology Dept. darkroom making prints of such exotic things as a slice of the eye of a fly. Their equipment makes Al and Cy green with envy.

Jamie, 19, is a Sophomore at Brigham Young University studying Nursing. She ski's, when she can afford it, batches and earns pin money cooking for four return missionaries who can't stand their own cooking.

Martin, 20, in Cordoba, Argentina is now in the second year of his L.D.S. Mission there. He keeps mixing Spanish and English in his letters until we have trouble reading them. He seems to be happy, and to be enjoying this work very much.

Al delivers 100 large Tribunes early each morning. He's the wealthy Kearn. Mary's our catalyst. She keeps her scattered brood together and runs the church library in her spare time. We're all happy, proud of our grown family, and we continue to enjoy life on this small planet. We feel very blest this Christmas Season and we extend our greetings to you.
