

F. Edward Walker for State Senator On The Democratic Ticket

F. EDWARD WALKER

If experience is to be taken into consideration the candidacy of F. Edward Walker will receive serious consideration by the citizens of South Salt Lake county.

He can truly be termed "new blood" as far as political office is concerned, but at the same time has been a life-long Democrat, serving actively in the party both in Utah and the State of Oklahoma, where he formerly lived.

Judged by the many positions in which he has served and the activities in which he has been engaged, he would bring into the service of the people a very extensive experience.

At the present time he is president of the Walker-Hiner Insurance Agency, and also resident vice president of the United Benefit Insurance company for Utah and Idaho. He has always been active in civic, religious, educational and business circles. Among such positions which he still holds, are the following: Director of the Visiting Nurses' association, worker in the Community Chest cam-

Lee Chooses New Head Of Draft Unit

F. Edward Walker, 1376 Michigan ave., Salt Lake insurance executive and naval reserve officer, Tuesday was nominated by Gov. J. Bracken Lee to succeed Brig. Gen. J. Wallace West as state director of selective service.

Gov. Lee made the nomination in a letter to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director. The governor pointed out that Gen. West has served in the dual capacity of draft director and adjutant general of Utah's national guard.

Full Time to Guard

The national guard, Gov. Lee wrote, is of such prominence and scope it requires the full time of Gen. West. He said the general had done an "excellent job" in both positions, but in view of anticipated expansion of the guard, his full time would be required by the state military organization.

It is expected Mr. Walker, a naval reserve commander, will assume his new position at Fort Douglas about March 1. Manager of the Walker Insurance agency, the selective service nominee plans to sell his business.

Naval Liaison Officer

During World War II, Mr. Walker served on selective service boards as naval liaison officer in Salt Lake City and San Francisco before serving overseas at New Caledonia. He is a past commander of the American Legion post No. 2, Salt Lake City, and has held department and post offices in Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He was elected president of the Salt Lake Assn. of Life Underwriters in 1937. He has served on numerous civic committees, including the county infantile paralysis committee, of which he was chairman in 1939.

A member of the Masonic lodge, Mr. Walker also served in the navy during World War I. He was a candidate in 1938 on the Democratic ticket for the state senate.

National Leader Tells Of Vast Sums Paid To Beneficiaries

Living insurance policy holders in the United States last year were paid by life insurance companies enough money to have built three Panama Canals or 24 Boulder Dams, Holgar J. Johnson of Pittsburgh, Pa., president of the National Association of Life Underwriters, today told Utah insurance men at the sales congress of the Utah State Association of Life Underwriters in the Hotel Utah.

"In 1938 insurance companies in the United States paid out a total of more than $2,600,000,000, and of that sum about $1,500,000,000 went to living policy holders," he declared. "The remaining sum of $975,000,000—paid to beneficiaries when policy holders died—would be enough to maintain, at the American standard of living, 2,000,000 families for a full year."

"People in the United States are firmly convinced of the value of life insurance, Mr. Johnson declared, pointing out that while the United States contains only seven per cent of the world's population, we have 70 per cent of the world's life insurance policies.

INFORMATION ON
GRADING AND CREDITING OF EXAMINATIONS

(Please Read Carefully)

1. The passing grade on each examination is 70%. All papers, with the exception of the unusually good ones, are marked by at least two graders independently of each other, and by virtue of a system of numbering examination books (names being detached) the identity of the applicant being examined is unknown to the graders. Border-line papers are read independently by a third grader. The practices of other professional examinations have been followed in every respect.

2. If you took all five examinations and passed two or more, you are credited with those passed towards any subsequent series. In case you took less than five, you are being credited with any which were passed.

3. The Dean and other officials cannot override the appointed Board of Examiners. All papers have been graded on a uniform basis and every precaution exercised to prevent the possibility of error in recording grades. In fairness to other candidates, requests for special consideration cannot be granted.

4. Under a ruling from the Board of Directors, numerical grades are not given to candidates who have passed an examination. Please do not ask for an exception.

5. Examination books are not returned for two reasons. In the first place, they constitute part of the College's permanent records. Secondly, corrections are not entered therein, graders being instructed not to make any notations in order that subsequent graders may not be influenced by their judgment.
