winnings of certain prizes were compiled and recently published by that valuable journal, Kentucky Stock Farm. These show that Nancy Hanks in her exhibitions, no race having been trotted by her, won $17,500. A good trotter is never outclassed. If he gets too fast to find races open to him, the people will pay their money just to look at him.

MARRIED.

DALY-GENTRY.—In Columbia, Missouri, November 23, 1893, by Rev. W. T. Maupin, William Daly and Miss Laura Gentry.

DIED.

SPIVEY.—Near Centralia, November 18, 1893, Ethel, daughter of T. J. Spivey, aged 3 years.

TOMLINSON.—Near Centralia, Mrs. Stephen Tomlinson, aged 40 years, November 17, 1893.

RIDGEWAY.—Near Centralia, November 18, 1893, Parker Ridgeway, aged 4 years, son of W. S. Ridgeway.

SWEENEY.—At his home near Sturgeon, Monday, November 27, 1893, F. Lacy Sweeney, aged about 45 years. He was a member of the petit jury at the last term of the Boone county circuit court.

TURNER.—At his home four miles from Columbia, Monday, November 27, 1893, of pneumonia, George W. Turner, aged about 50 years. Mr. Turner was a good citizen and well-liked by many people. He served Boone county as a grand juror. Only two weeks ago and had been a figure in many democratic conventions. George Turner will be greatly missed.

MCDANIEL.—In Columbia, Tuesday, November 23, 1893, Mrs. H. McDaniel, aged about 70 years. Her death was quite sudden. She was as well as usual early in the morning, finished her accustomed work and sat down. Complaining badly, she laid down on the bed and died in a few minutes, supposedly of heart disease. She was a member of the Methodist church and a good woman. Her remains were taken to her old home for interment.

WHITE.—Near Sturgeon, November 22, 1893, James T. White, aged 55 years. He was a native of Boone county; born on a farm and had always been a farmer. He served on the grand jury the last term of circuit court. His death was occasioned by injuries received when kicked by a horse about three months ago. Mr. White was a soldier in the confederate army and was a good citizen. He owned several hundred acres of land near Sturgeon. He will be much missed in Boone county life.

KENNAN.—At a private hospital, in Jacksonville, Illinois, November 27, 1893, Mrs. Cordelia Kennan, wife of Hon. W. H. Kennan, of Mexico, aged about 50 years. She was formerly Miss Cordelia Jenkins, a native of Boone county, and a member of one of our most highly esteemed families. She was a sister of Mrs. C. H. Hardin. She was a loyal member of the Baptist church and the memory of her noble, unselfish life will be long cherished. She leaves four children, three daughters and one son. They with Mr. Kennan, have the sympathy of many friends in Boone county.
